days past and the result is a marvel-resterday was one of the hardest days he has put in, for despite the heavy weather he spent two hours on the road in the morning and did an extra amount of work in his gymnasium in the afternoon. Clad in sweaters and ollskins and accompanied by Tim McGrath and Harry Tuthill, the little champion took a turn along the ocean front and then up into the park. A brisk wask was varied with sprints, and after covering ten miles, the party returned to Sheehan's, where Young Corbett received his usual rub down.

After the usual gymnasium work in the afternoon the Denver lad had a couple of brisk fights with Monte At a week ago, and his punching shows a couple of brisk fights with Monte At a week ago, and his punching shows to the road yesterday tell and Bobby Johnson. Incidentally hils bout with Johnson demonstrated that Corbett has his knockout punch still in working order. Johnson found this out for himself. It happened thus Young Johnson, who is a husky, hardhitting lad, was giving the champion the benefit of a lot of stiff body blows, which were causing bellows to work overtime. Then, after a hot mix-up,

LINEUP FOR ELDERS FOR SEASON OF 1904

Shortstop Flynn, Bruyette Third base Bruyette, Flynn

This is the line-up of the Salt Lake team for the season of 1904 as it appears at the present time. All these players have been signed, their contracts received and word sent to them to appear at Salt Lake for spring practice not later than April 10. However, the Salt Lake club is still on the lookout for more players, and in all probability will sign several more before the season opens if convinced that they can do better work than those mentioned above.

San Francisco, March 19.—Young
Corbett is taking no chances in the coming fight with Jimmy Britt, however much he may have been disposed to trifle with his training at the opening of the campaign. He has been down to steady, hard work for several days past and the result is a marvel-
